Hunters have another good deer season

By WENDY HANSCOM

Deer kill totals were high in most areas last year, and despite a cold, wet hunting season, local hunters bagged about the same amount of whitetails this year.

Statewide deer totals also appear to be up slightly this season.

This year's mid-season state totals were running six to seven percent higher than last year's, according to Paul Fornier, spokesman for the Department of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife.

Before opening day, Fornier said, state biologists predicted between 29,000 and 30,000 deer would be bagged.

"It looks right now like we might be pretty close to that figure," he said. "Final figures will not be available until February."

Local kill

Locally, the deer kill is down a bit in Newry, Bethel and Andover and up a little in Greenwood and West Paris. The bear kill seems to be holding steady.

Randy Gladden of the Trap Corner Store in West Paris said the store didn't tag too many big bucks this year.

"The deer averaged a bit smaller," Gladden said. "Last year, we tagged eight deer over 200 pounds. This year, we only tagged two."

There were some big deer shot in the area. Billy Murphy of Bethel brought down a 232-pound deer.

New Rebel coach seeks hoops respect

By WENDY HANSCOM

Telstar's new boys' basketball coach has inherited a young, inexperienced team to whip into winning shape.

But he's also got his eyes on another goal—improving school and community attitude toward the sport.

"We need to change the attitude about basketball at Telstar," said first-year coach Mark Thurlow. "It's looked down on, and I'd like to turn that around. The kids need more basketball experience and they're not getting it at Telstar."

Basketball at Telstar has a lot going against it.

With the school traditionally uncompetitive at the sport, fan support has dwindled over the years.

The Class C Mountain Valley Conference Rebels have had just one winning season and tournament berth (1984) since the school was formed in 1968.

Former boys coach and Telstar Athletic Director Carroll Higgins said not enough practice space is a big part of the problem.

"We have one gym for eight teams," Higgins said. "Any other school we play against has three or four gyms available—so practice time is a negative factor for Telstar. The new gym at Crescent Park will help out some, but we'll still be a gym short of what most other communities have."

Thurlow said he admits changing attitudes about Telstar basketball won't be an easy task, but said he's willing to take it slowly and start small.

Schachter firing upheld

• But former town clerk feels vindicated

By CAVENAUGH KELLY

Andover selectmen had just cause to fire former administrative assistant Rebecca Schachter, because she failed to keep up with the meeting minutes, a hearing examiner ruled last week.

Ronald Lebel's decision came after two days of recent hearings on whether selectmen had just cause to fire Schachter in September.

The seven-page decision, however, was critical of selectmen's actions regarding Schachter, stating "they have not distinguished themselves in their administration of these issues."

Lebel also found no just cause for any of the selectmen's allegations except for the minutes, and stated the decision to fire Schachter was made outside a legal meeting.

Schachter said last week she hasn't decided whether or not she will take further legal action.

Both Schachter and her attorney, Robert Hark, were pleased with Lebel's overall findings.

"I feel vindicated," said Schachter. "In terms of the factual content I'm pleased. But I'm not happy with the results," added Hark.

Schachter had no comment when asked if she was disappointed not to get her job back.

The selectmen's attorney, Michael Steven, said Lebel's decision showed the selectmen had just cause in their decision to terminate Schachter.

"It's not the best, best cause, but it is a good one," said Steven.

Selectmen Raymond Hutchins was reluctant to comment on the decision until he had a chance to review it further with his lawyer, Chairman of the Selectmen Brian Mills couldn't be reached.

Lebel said completing the minutes was part of both Schachter's original and revised job descriptions.

Lebel said Schachter should have completed the minutes of three meetings in August and one in September.

He refuted Schachter's argument that she didn't have enough time to Petitions challenge Albany bingo plan

"I'm against gambling, period."

I think it would be bad for this area."

Carl Hansen
East Bethel

By WENDY HANSCOM

Local residents opposed to the possibility of high-stakes bingo in Albany Township (See Nov. 28 Citizen) are drafting at least two petitions against the proposal.

One petition, drafted by Carl and Nancy Hansen of East Bethel, states that the signers "express our opposition to the proposed building of a high-stakes bingo hall in Albany Township. Our concerns are with high-stakes bingo and the associated activities and not with any specific organization or ethnic group."

Representatives from the Passamaquoddy Indian tribe have made preliminary inquiries to the Land Use Regulation Commission regarding a plan to build a 1,000 seat, high-stakes hall in Albany. Tribal representatives met with LURC officials in October. No application has yet been submitted to LURC.

Against gambling

I'm against high-stakes bingo, period," Carl Hansen said. "I'm against gambling, period. I think it would be bad for this area. If people are opposed to it for other reasons then they have to express their concerns. I'm against legalized gambling."

But both Hansen and his wife said they should not be looked upon as the leaders of the opposition to the bingo hall.

NTL to expand 1993 offerings in Bethel

By MICHAEL DANIELS

National Training Laboratories has announced that it will expand next summer's program offerings in Bethel from 24 to 29 labs, and will extend the length of its training season here from nine to 13 weeks.

The organization is also moving ahead with plans to upgrade it's Bethel facilities. Plans include eventual interior renovation and winterization at NTL's conference center, the former Gehring residence at the end of Broad Street.

Five hundred and twenty seven people attended NTL labs in Bethel last summer, according to director of programs Nanci Appleman-Vassil.

The number is down considerably from only a few years ago, when nearly twice that many people participated yearly in NTL courses in Bethel.

But 527 people is 527 more people than it appeared destined in 1991 to be headed for Bethel—and 527 more customers for local restaurants and lodging establishments.

In June of 1991 NTL, which had been offering training courses in Bethel for more than 40 years, announced that it would be suspending its Bethel operations at the end of that summer.

The decision was a shock to many in-town businesses, some of which had relied on NTL for up to 40 percent of their annual business.

In explaining the decision to leave Bethel, NTL executive director Lennox Joseph cited complaints from participants about inadequate training space and facilities here, and

CHRISTMAS THANKS

To the Editor:
The Chamber of Commerce would like to thank some special people who have extended themselves during this season so that Bethel could enjoy holiday decorations on Main Street and around the common.
Bill Meyers is the generous person who donated and delivered the beautiful evergreen trees on the common. The boughs for the swags on Main Street came from the high school clearing operations and the decorating help came from many unexpected volunteers and conscripts! Special thanks to Tim Hutchins, Alan Fleet, Rhea Gibbs, Charlie and Nancy for their cheerful assistance. We hope you will all join us on Saturday at 7 p.m. for the lighting of the trees on the common.

complete the minutes, citing former town clerk Kathy Williamson's hearing testimony that it took no more than two hours for each meeting on average.

"...the preparation of minutes for the four meetings at issue should not have required more than eight hours of work time," Lebel stated. "Not only was this violation of her job description a repeated one, but the tardiness was extreme. By the time she was relieved of her duties ... the minutes of the selectmen meeting of Aug. 11, 1992 were six weeks late."

Schachter said it would have taken her more than 20 hours to do the minutes that Williamson said took eight hours to do, because she does a more thorough and precise job of recording the minutes than Williamson did.

"I wish he (Lebel) would have asked me how I did the minutes," Schachter said.

The former administrative assistant said she put a lot of pride in doing the minutes and that she had some of the minutes partially done in the computer when she was terminated.

Schachter was on vacation for two weeks in September, at assessing school for a week in early August and had her hours reduced by selectmen in late July.

Lebel stated the minutes were a significant part of Schachter's responsibilities.

"The preparation of the minutes of selectmen's meetings is a central and basic responsibility of the administrative assistant. The timely and accurate preparation of minutes not only serves the needs of the selectmen but those of the public as well."

Of the selectmen's charges—including that Schachter was uncooperative—only Schachter's alleged failure to input abatement records into the computer, research computer software and tape recorder prices and complete a jobs bond application were credible, according to Lebel.

He ruled they were not in themselves grounds for dismissal because no specific deadlines were set by the selectmen.

Lebel also questioned whether termination was the appropriate action.

"This does not mean that such a cause requires discharge or even that discharge is the best alternative among the possible disciplinary measures which could be taken," he said.

Lebel also found that grounds for an earlier reprimand of Schachter "were resolved completely by it, did not manifest themselves again... and do not form the basis for any of the complaints which the selectmen now assert constitute cause for removal."

Steven said selectmen never lost sight of the best interests of the town when rendering decisions.

"They are not lawyers; they're elected officials and they're doing the best job they can," said Steven. "They're not putting up a front like they've done everything right. But overall their decisions were fair and overall they were not done in their private interests, but in the best interests of the town."

Hunters

and a 262-pound deer was tagged at Brown's Mobil.

About 225,000 hunting licenses were issued this season. The special muzzle-loading season is being held this week and may add a few more deer to the local total, but as of the end of regular deer season local tagging stations reported the following totals (1991 totals in parentheses):

Bear River Cabins in Newry: 34 (37) deer, 17 (11) bear.

Bob's Corner Store in Locke Mills: 54 (38), does not tag bear.

Brown's Mobil Station in Bethel: 67 (76) deer, 20 (4) bear.

Mills Market in Andover: 60 (83) deer, 22 (22) bear.

Trap Corner Store in West Paris: 132 (107) deer, 6 (2) bear.

Upton Trading Post in Upton: 25 deer, 2 bear (first year of reporting).

It seemed like a pretty quiet season in this area. "No accidents, nobody got lost—all it all it was pretty smooth," said Upton Trading Post owner Jeri Gelling. "Business wise we did pretty good. There were a lot of hunters, but there just wasn't a lot of connection. I thought more deer would be shot. It was cold and crunchy in the woods. Everybody said they saw plenty of sign, the deer just weren't where they usually were. Early wet snow froze and made the woods noisy."

Alan Fleet of Newry bagged a deer this season, but said coyotes kept the deer moving.

"You could check a place where the deer were feeding, but the next day the coyotes would have driven them out," Fleet said. "The coyotes keep the deer stirred up quite a bit."

Although no accidents were reported locally, Game Wardens investigated several hunting mishaps throughout the state.

This season's total of 10 hunting accidents is about average for Maine's regular deer hunting season, he said. Of the 10 people shot, one died. The fatal shooting was self-inflicted, Fornier said.

LET THERE BE LIGHTS—Rene McGrew strings lights on one of the holiday evergreens on the Bethel common. The trees, donated by Bill Myers, were decorated over the weekend by members of the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce and will be lit up Saturday evening at 7 p.m., along with the common's more permanent blue spruce. Santa has promised to make an appearance, and to bring along some treats for good boys and girls.

One way to improve the district's basketball program is to teach elementary students the game's fundamentals early, he said.

Each of the district's three elementary schools offer coed intramural afterschool basketball programs, but this year Thurlow is starting another program.

On Saturday afternoons he is inviting any fourth- through six-grade boys in the district interested in improving their basketball skills to turn out for extra practice.

"I want students from Andover, Bethel, Greenwood, Newry, Woodstock—from all over the district, to turn out," Thurlow said. "The kids need to get involved with each other early. I want to integrate these kids right now. Let them play together as much as they possibly can and give them as much gym time as possible."

Thurlow said later in the season the young hoopers will form an intramural recreation league.

Higgins said the basketball programs in the district's elementary schools have already helped provide better players, but athletes need to stick to the sport.

"There are enough good athletes, if they get in the program and stay in the program," Higgins said. "We started an elementary program at Crescent Park four years ago and the middle school is already benefiting from that. We'll have to wait for the impact on the high school. The key is to get them into the program and keep them there right up until high school."

Senior forward David Barnes is back, along with sophomore guard Todd Wing. Both lettered last year. This is senior Devin Benson's second year on the team.

Others returning with some experience include: junior forward Chris Howe, sophomore guard Kevin Mullen and junior forward Keith Smith.

Newcomers include: sophomore guards Rich Diaz and Peter Miserochchi and juniors, forward Darren Wigley and guard Bill Chase.

"When you've got to start at ground level, there's nowhere to go but up," Thurlow said. "I want the kids to have fun and enjoy coming to practice and going to games."

"The guard play is strong. We've got no rebounding size. Everybody is working hard. I'd like to see us improve every day and do better every week. Maybe by the end of the season we can surprise everybody and pull an upset."

The boys first home game is scheduled for Dec. 5 against Lisbon at 5:30 p.m.

and rezoning permits, a public hearing could be held.

LURC officials schedule public hearings if five complaints or requests for a hearing are received regarding a proposed project.

David Salway of Albany said he already has enough signatures on a second petition, to LURC, to force a public hearing on the issue.

The Hansens' petition would be presented to LURC officials at such a hearing, according to Nancy Hansen.

"The petition of those opposed to the project would be taken to that hearing," Hansen said. "So that people who can't attend, but want a voice, could say they're against it. I'm not opposed to bingo. It's the difference between going out and having a fun evening and going out and gambling. It's not something we may want in the community. I think it's inappropriate here."

Besides the opposition to gambling, some Albany residents say they fear their quality of life will be affected by the proposed hall and the traffic it may bring.

"There are quite a few that don't think it is in the best interest of the area," said Norma Salway. "The amount of traffic would have a direct bearing on the quality of life here. I don't think it's appropriate with what is out here already. People bought property out here to get away from crowds and traffic. It may also conflict with traffic bound for Crocker Pond Campground. They wouldn't blend well together."

Politicians called in State Rep. Al Barth said he has fielded a call from U.S. Sen. Bill Cohen's office regarding the proposal. Barth said a Cohen representative told him the senator's office got a call from the American Legion hall in Dixfield "concerned that they are a non-profit group that raises money for non-profit use and they're a little worried."

Whether or not the hall can be built off the reservation is also being called into question.

Barth said he has also contacted Wayne Moss of the Maine Attorney General's Office, who, Barth said, knew nothing of the plan, but questions if the facility could be built off reservation land.

A lawyer for the Passamaquoddy told the Citizen last month that legislation passed last year made it possible to construct the hall off the reservation, as long as the Passamaquoddy bought the land and held it in trust for the tribe.

Carl Hanson said he has asked various legislators and other state government officials to look in to the issue.

Not everyone's unhappy.

Bethel Chamber of Commerce Executive Director Robin Zinchuk said she couldn't speak for all Chamber members, but personally couldn't see much wrong with the plan.

"If it is built and is well run, I think it could make an economic impact in the Bethel area," Zinchuk said.

"If they're willing to work with the local businesses and not take their guests to North Conway to shop, then it could have a positive effect in Bethel. It could be a nice economic boost to the area considering we have a lot of bed capacity in the off-season."

Others say they just don't have enough information to form an opinion.

"My gut feeling is: What harm will it do?" said Maine Line Products owner Rich Whitney. "But I haven't heard all the arguments for or against it."

Promoters of the high-stakes bingo facility say it could attract hundreds of out-of-town players for 27 weekends a year, create up to 40 direct jobs and help fill up local restaurants and hotels in the skiing off-season.

Promoters also say the tribe is interested only in bringing high-stakes bingo to Albany, and the plan should not be compared to plans for a full-scale gambling casino in Calais.

The Passamaquoddyies have proposed to build a $10 million casino in the Downeast port, primarily to attract gamblers from Canada.

Yesterday, Calais voters held a non-binding referendum on the proposed casino.

(Repeated attempts to contact Tribal Governor Robert Newell have been unsuccessful.)

The Community Chemical Awareness Team will sponsor a panel discussion on the effects of substance abuse in the workplace and community, on Dec. 8 at 7:30 p.m. at the West Parish Congregational Church in Bethel.

The discussion is entitled "Creating Partnerships for a Healthier Community." Panel members will talk about employee assistance programs for businesses, what impact substance abuse is having in the greater Bethel area and related topics.

"We want people to know more about how they can get involved in chemical awareness," said CCAT member Wendy Penley. "We see chemical awareness as a community responsibility."

Panelists for Tuesday's discussion include: Dane Tripp, Oxford Hills coordinator for Western Maine Community Partnership; Mark Swett, Boise Cascade employee assistance program coordinator; Nathan Seckinger, CCAT coordinator; Lynn Mason, director of Safer Families program; Ken Hann, Bridgton Knitting Mills personnel manager and Becky Hardy, Tri-County Mental Health clinical social worker.

MCS yule log celebration

The Maine Conservation School in Bryant Pond will celebrate the Yule Log tradition on Sunday, Dec. 6. The Yule Log ceremony dates back several thousand years and traditionally marked the beginning of the holiday season.

The public is invited to gather at 2 p.m. at the school, to search for the Yule Log. After the Log is recovered, everyone will return to Rogers Hall for the lighting of the Yule Log, followed with singing and refreshments. Families and youth groups from throughout the region are especially welcomed to join in this traditional holiday experience.

Although the event is free, participants are asked to contact the school beforehand at 665-2068.

Just Imagine Coffee House

Jim Gallant has been blending his unique guitar style with his deep, rich vocals in front of New England audiences for years. An adept instrumentalist, Jim is at home finger-picking a Bach sonata, flat-picking a bluegrass fiddle tune, or playing the blues harmonica. He is a member of the Maine Alliance of Musicians and the Maine Composers' Forum. Recently released is his first album, "Midnight Dance of the Morning Things."

The Just Imagine Coffee House opens its doors at 7 p.m. on Dec. 5 in the downstairs meeting room of the West Parish Congregational Church. A modest donation at the door is requested to support the musicians.

Christmas in Harrison

Christmas in Harrison will take place this year on Friday through Sunday, Dec. 4 through 6. The annual event was initiated six years ago by a small group of citizens under the auspices of the Harrison Business and Professional Association, which wanted to start the Christmas season off with the holiday spirit.

The weekend closes with Sunday brunch at a local restaurant and a chance to see neighbors and friends and feel the "Spirit of Christmas." For more information and for places to stay call 583-2978 or 583-2821.

Chmb. of Commerce

Many thanks to Bill and Mary Duntion, who held a Business After Hours at their newly completed project at the Riverbend Condominiums on the Sunday River Road.

All chamber members are invited to come to the annual Christmas celebration to be held on Sunday, Dec. 13 at the Sudbury Inn.

Remember to call the chamber office if you would like to enter your business in the Christmas Decorating Contest, to be judged on Saturday evening, Dec. 5. Please call by Friday to 824-2282.

Spread the word about the second annual Country Christmas in Bethel. Open House to be held all day on Saturday, Dec. 5. Many businesses throughout the area invite you to shop and browse and enjoy holiday goodies in their shops and Inns. Bring family and friends to the Christmas Tree Lighting on the Bethel Common with Santa at 7 p.m.

Many, many thanks to Ann Friedlander, Rene McGrew, Chad McGrew and the other volunteers who helped to decorate the Christmas trees on the common and the poles in the village. It sure is great to have community spirit in our membership.

DOUBLE UGLY—Most of Bethel's sewer and storm drain work has wrapped up for the year, but lower Main Street still sports an extra set of utility poles. Town Manager Madeleine Henley said the original row of poles (the row nearer the street) will be removed as soon as the remaining utility lines are switched to the new poles.

From the Bethel Police log:

Boughs stolen from town's tree farm; bloody passenger transported

Bethel police responded last Tuesday to a report of two subjects filling a rented truck with evergreen boughs cut from the town of Bethel's tree farm across from the landfill.

When officer Darren Tripp arrived the truck was gone, but his report states tire tracks indicated it was headed for Rumford on Route 2. Tripp alerted the Rumford Police Department and the truck was stopped near Abbott's Farm Plaza by a Rumford officer.

Tripp went to Rumford to interview the suspects, Donald Thompson and Chester Wheeler, no age or residence given for either man, told Tripp "they had cut some boughs from the tree farm but only a few." Thompson showed Tripp a large garbage bag full of boughs he said was cut on the town's tree farm. A Bethel town truck was sent to pick up the boughs, which were donated to the West Bethel Union Church for wreath making. No charges were filed.

Friday night, Officer Anne Bertram stopped a car driven by Drayton Valentine of Florida for speeding, 65 m.p.h. in a 50 m.p.h. zone. Valentine told police that he was transporting an injured girl to Stephens Memorial Hospital in Norway.

Bertram reports seeing a "young woman" in the back seat of the vehicle with a sheet covered with blood over her head. The woman told Bertram she was all right. The police report states her head was covered with blood. Bertram called Bethel Rescue to the scene to transport the woman.

When Bertram asked what had happened, Glen Gotcbik, a passenger in the car, told her he had been driving on a dirt road near Sunday River Ski Resort when he lost control of his vehicle on the crest of a hill because of icy conditions. Police were unable to find the scene of the accident from Gotcbik's description.

In other police news last week, Rumford police stopped a vehicle allegedly involved in a single car accident at the Middle Intervale Road and East Bethel Road Intersection. A telephone pole was snapped in half. Timothy Tyler, 34, no residence given, was arrested for obstruction of government administration and failure to report and accident by the quickest means.

Michael D. Hall, no age given, of West Chatham, Mass. was arrested on Saturday for criminal speeding, 65 m.p.h. in a 35 m.p.h. zone. Police arrested Carl Roberts, Jr., 22, of Bethel on Nov. 21 for assault and disorderly conduct.

about the difficulty of getting to and from Bethel.

The decision was initially presented as irrevocable, but by August the NTL board of directors had backed off considerably.

Under pressure from NTL members who felt a strong bond to Bethel, and encouraged by the Bethel Area Task Force, which had been formed by local residents to attempt to address some of the problems cited by NTL, the board relented and agreed to continue offering programs in Bethel.

And in April this year the board approved a long-term plan for its Bethel operation. The plan included not only continuing to offer courses here, but also improving its facilities

The changes apparently had a positive effect. Appleman-Vassil said the 1992 season ran smoothly, in part because of "several operational changes that had a positive effect including more effective use of manpower, limiting the number of programs offered at one time to maximize the number of lab participants and allow us to use only the best training space in town."

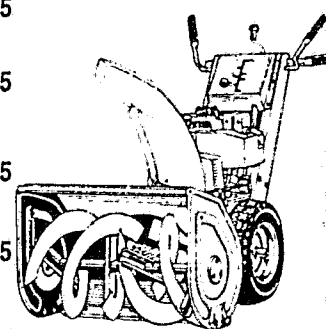

Task force member Gwenyth Bohr agreed that the summer that might not have been had ended up as a success. "It was a really great year," she said. "NTL felt more welcome than ever, and the relationship with the town is at a new high."

Kathi Schandelmair, who was hired in June as a year-round manager for NTL's Bethel operation, said she is currently collecting estimates for renovations at the conference center.

Brace yourselves for December! Items to make note of, or remember, are: Beginning Wednesday, Dec. 2, we are starting up student banking again with the Oxford Bank and Trust. Banking day will be every Wednesday, and we have a parent volunteer assisting to get the deposits in on Wednesday and returning the bank books to school on Thursdays. If you have not already signed up, you may join any time.

Tuesday, Dec. 8, is our next parent volunteer meeting, at 6:30 p.m. in the library. Come find out the results of completed fund raisers and activities, and check out what we're doing next!

Wednesday, Dec. 9, is an early release day. Students will have a half day of school, being released at noon. Teachers will be completing the day with a workshop.

Tuesday, Dec. 15, is our annual Christmas Concert beginning at 7 p.m. Parents and friends of students K-6 should mark that date on their calendars. We usually have standing room only!

Speaking of December activities prompts me to include a reminder about school delays and cancellations when bad weather hits. Remember that last year SAD 17 instigated the hour delay when possible. Be sure to listen to the local radio stations, or turn on your television to be informed of any delays or cancellations.

Classroom news this week is from grade four. Mr. Litchfield is currently reading an historical novel, "By Secret Railway," to his class. Students are always interested in this aspect of our country's history. Students have just finished their reading theme about dinosaurs and are writing stories based on facts learned in the dinosaur unit. In math everyone is working with pattern blocks to help learn about area and multiplication.

In social studies the class is finishing up their Maine studies unit.

They have learned the names of the 16 counties because of a song. They also wish to express their appreciation to two guest speakers. Mr. Steve Cummings of South Paris showed them about blueberrying and Mrs. Yvette Michaud spoke to the class about potato harvesting in Arrostook County.

Electricity is the new unit in science. The class will begin by predicting whether or not a cell, a wire and a bulb will produce a simple circuit and light up. They will, of course, test their predictions. They will then move on into investigation the question, What is electricity? They will also study series and parallel circuits, doing all kinds of projects along the way.

SUGGESTIONS FOR CUTTING YOUR INSURANCE COSTS

This article is brought to you by Jane D. Gray, CPA

In searching for ways to cut costs, don't overlook your insurance policies. Try these suggestions for cutting your insurance costs without increasing your risk of being underinsured.

Cut insurance costs across the board by increasing your deductibles. Your willingness to pay a higher portion of future losses can reduce your premiums in the meantime. If you invest the savings, you'll soon have enough to pay the higher deductible if you suffer a loss.

Eliminate unnecessary or overlapping policies. Health insurance for pets and replacement insurance for contact lenses are usually too costly when compared with the benefits received. If nobody else depends on your earning power, a life insurance policy may be unnecessary.

Flight insurance, cancer (and other "dread disease") insurance, mortgage and credit-card insurance (the ones that pay off your obligation if you die), and rental-car insurance often overlap one of your other policies.

Shop around. Premiums on similar policies can vary considerably from one company to another. Publications such as Consumer Reports are helpful, as are organizations such as the National Insurance Consumer Organization (121 N. Payne Street, Alexandria, VA 22314).

Ask for discounts. Automobile insurance is frequently discounted for safe drivers, good students, graduates of driver's education courses, and owners of cars with air bags. Many companies give discounts if you buy more than one policy from them.

Don't blindly slash premiums as a goal in itself. A single underinsured misfortune could easily undo many years of reduced premiums. The goal is to maintain adequate coverage at the lowest price. Review all of your policies with your insurance advisor.

The Greenwood Fire Department will meet Wednesday, Dec. 2 at 7 p.m. at the Fire Station.

The holiday season is upon us and the economy is improving so they say, I wouldn't know. I only know that two insurances and one utility bill have gone up nearly a hundred dollars a month amongst them and we received a four dollar a month adjustment use in our Social Security. Somehow there seems to be an imbalance here. I wisely did all the Christmas shopping I could early in the summer so most of it is done. And that, this thanksgiving is one thing to be thankful for. We did get one of our Christmas presents earlier than expected. Having had trouble with our microwave and having had it in the shop couple of times only to have it come back worse than when it went. I took the advice of an appliance repairman I know who said it would be worth it to invest in a new one and I did. I had it hidden at Gerry's house in N.W. Bethel awaiting Christmas, but Thanksgiving day the old one conked out and absolutely refused to run. Donna and Ted Downs of Pembroke, N.H. were guests here and Donna and I took a quick trip to Gerry's and brought back the new one and the dinner went on with hardly a hitch and "good will toward men."

Somehow there seems to be an imbalance here. I wisely did all the Christmas shopping I could early in the summer so most of it is done. And that, this thanksgiving is one thing to be thankful for. I took the advice of an appliance repairman I know who said it would be worth it to invest in a new one and I did. I had it hidden at Gerry's house in N.W. Bethel awaiting Christmas, but Thanksgiving day the old one conked out and absolutely refused to run. Donna and Ted Downs of Pembroke, N.H. were guests here and Donna and I took a quick trip to Gerry's and brought back the new one and the dinner went on with hardly a hitch and "good will toward men."

Vera Cross entertained Nellie Swan, Paris Hill and Roy and Claire

Smith of Wallingford, Conn. at supper Sunday. Roy, in turn, entertained them with pictures of his trip to Montana and Salt Lake City, Utah.

Praise Assembly of God in Rumford Center held its annual Thanksgiving dinner Sunday evening at the church. Those present were Rev. Robert Rainville, wife Denise, and children, Amanda, Emily, Andrea, and Ryan. Dot and Roger Chopping, Debbie and Owen Brown, Kim and Allen Brown, Tracy Swick, Bob and Laurie Brown, Benjamin and Joe, Everett and Lisa Chase, Helen, Gladys and Brenda, Allen and Wanda Hutchinson, Donald and Ray, Allen Larsen, Tim and Jean Cormier, Timmie, Micah, Hannah, Moriah and Eliza, Pat and Jennie Walter, Derek and Evan, Lorraine and John Mills, Henry Brooks, Nettie Fitzpatrick, Raymond Chase, Kathy Korhonen and T.J., Anne Glazier, Christopher and Camilla, Marianne Royal and her mother, Margaret, Lori Drisgill and Ryan, Linda Hughes, James and Rusty, and about eight guests. After the supper there was a short service of testimony, praise and worship. Each person was given five kernels of corn, representing the five kernels that were a daily ration for the first pilgrims. Three food baskets were also given out. Much appreciation was given to those who planned, cooked and worked on the supper and to the Bethel Church of the Nazarene for the loan of four tables. Hunters tagging deer at Bob's

Corner Store through Nov. 25 were: (bucks) James Johnson (bowl); Randy Kangas, Buster Cross, Dale Stevens, Moe Nadeau, Bob Seames, Reginald Record, Brian Hart, Bertha Walker, Debora McKenna, Ruby Coolidge, Albert (Baldy) Roberts, Matt Burnham, William Roberts, Jr., Adrian Theriault, Rex Martin, William Roberts, Sr., Barry Nevel, Percy McInnis, Don Cross, Bryan Kellogg, John Burn Jr., Richard Felt, Larry Whitman, Carolyn Johnson, Duane (Hoot) Roberts, Herschel Abbott, Richard Cross, Carlton Cole, Brian Piatlock, Tom Walker, David Walker, Michael Walker, Bing Cross, Kevin Farnum, Robert Hinkley, Jr., Shawn Hinkley, (Docs) Wendy Annis, Stacy Roberts, Teresa Walker, Michael Augusta, Scott Augusta, Robert Rainville, Marc Brown, Robert Loes, Carl Roberts, Edith Morey, Thomas Stadnicki, Raymond Seames, Richard Sprague, Corrine Hammond and Evelyn (Diddy) Johnson.

The Greenwood Fire Department held their annual oyster stew supper at the fire station Sunday evening and then had the leftover stew at the fire station Monday evening for those not able to make it Sunday.

East Stoneham

By ELEANOR NELSON

On Saturday, Nov. 21, the Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts from Pack 155 collected their "Scouting for Food" bags. Grandson Matthew was in this program. He and Molly were with me Saturday morning so I took him to Center Lovell Church so he could participate. We heard that people of the area responded very well. This is the fifth year that the Pack had done this and there were about 20 boys who participated. Dan Barker and Vicki Royer were the organizers of this year's program. Items are to be distributed to the Interparish Pantry in Stoneham, First Assembly of God Church in Fryeburg, Dinner Bell North at the Catholic Church in Fryeburg and the Good Shepherd Food Bank in Lewiston-Auburn. I presume that Stoneham people who have bags not picked up can take them to the town office where it will get to the proper place where needed, as the Interparish Pantry is there.

On Saturday, Nov. 21 Dora Lawrence held a Mary Kay party at her home. Cathi Wood was the demonstrator.

On Sunday, Nov. 22 Grace Nelson, Mildred Dadmun and myself went to Chef's Table Norway for the annual Senior Citizens Thanksgiving dinner. We met sister Frances Grant and husband Bob and Mrs. Gladys Plummer. It was a most delicious meal as usual and the host always greets and seats people with a big friendly smile. He must surely enjoy this job. I expect and hope that the next senior meal will be the Sunday before Christmas as usual. See you there.

On Monday Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grant and Eleanor Nelson visited their cousin, Wilma Taylor in Center Lovell.

It was a surprise this morning to wake up and see the snow on the ground and still coming down. Guess it was a bit slippery for people going to work, but it cleared off a bit before the day was over - a good day to stay in and cook for the Thanksgiving dinner which many people did. I will enclose a little piece that I found and used last year and wish to share it with you. It can be used any day.

"Let Us Give Thanks" - Let us give thanks for everything. The charm of Fall, the cheer of Spring, the unmatched splendor of the skies, song birds, brooks, and butterflies. Let us give thanks for all good gifts, inspiring words and faith that lifts. Various joys of every kind, enduring health, and peace of mind. Let us give thanks for all that cheers, home and family, fruitful years. Abundant blessings on our land, neighbors, friends who lend a hand. Knowledge, ventures to pursue, sleep and rest when day is through. God's love to guide us on our way - for all these things, on this glad day... Let us give thanks.

The Historical Society is an organization dedicated to studying Woodstock and the surrounding area. It also hopes to bring education and informative programs to the public. Let's make the Society an uplifting experience for us all. It is a valuable resource for everyone to enjoy. The Historical Society encourages you to learn more about famous people and places. Don't forget the potluck supper and Christmas party in December.

The Woodstock Senior Citizens will meet on Thursday, Dec. 3 at the Masonic Hall with the Star Birthday Club putting on the dinner and a Christmas party after with exchange of gifts and cards.

Mrs. Beatrice Farnum was supper guest of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Chase on Saturday to celebrate Lisa's fourth birthday, she went with Mr. and Mrs. John Chase, Crystal and Helen Chase.

The Telstar Honor Society put on a lovely Thanksgiving dinner for the senior citizens on Sunday, Nov. 22. It was very well attended.

Hello folks, what a variety of weather we've had since I sent in the news last week. We got a little snow just to remind us what is coming soon and that we'd better be getting prepared for it.

On the 19th, we went to supper and an open meeting at West Paris Grange. They had invited the residents from Chapel Valley Home to come for supper and the program. They put on a very nice Thanksgiving supper for everybody with an abundance of food. Many of the residents of Chapel Valley took some pie back to their home with them. We took some cooked squash to help. They put on a real good program.

On Saturday the 21st, we had to get up before breakfast as the old saying goes. We went to Auburn to stay with sister Viva, while her daughter and husband took their youngest daughter to see an eye specialist in Concord, N.H.

The next meeting of Franklin Grange 124 in Bryant Pond is scheduled to be on the third Monday night of December, which will be the 21st. We are not going to exchange gifts as in past years, but since this will be the Christmas program, each member is asked to bring something that will not spoil, in the food line. This will all be donated to one of the food banks. We felt that this would be more worthwhile than buying something for a gift and perhaps it not being anything that the receiver cared for.

Well folks, by the time you read this, I hope we'll all have our inner parts functioning properly again after being stuffed at Thanksgiving. I'm sure that Tums, Roll-Aids and Alka Seltzer will be the final courses for many at Thanksgiving time. Anyway, we'll enjoy it all and pay the price in suffering afterwards. Hope you have a good day.

A potluck supper will precede the Mundt-Allen Post and Unit meetings on December 8. Following the meal, regular business sessions will be held.

The three golden girls enjoyed Thanksgiving dinner with Blanche's son Charles in New Hampshire. We had a lovely dinner and an enjoyable day.

Bill and Sylvia Wight, Conrad and Doris Parent, Karlene Bachelder and Gil Seeley were at the Telstar Senior Citizens Thanksgiving dinner last week to enjoy turkey, etc. and entertainment by the Hillsmen chorus. Sylvia won a door prize and so did Gil. We want to thank the National Honor Society and all the sponsors for making our day. God bless you all.

Happy birthday to Frances Bennett on her 91st. Also Mary Morin, from all the members of the Newry Mother's Club. Happy birthday to Dorothy McPherson on her 74th. "May heaven give you all many, many merry days, and send you many, many years of 'Sunshine Days'."

Only three brave members of the "Newry Bowling Gang" ventured forth during the "murky turkey" week to go bowling at the Oxford Lanes in Rumford. They were Karlene Bachelder, Betsy Clark and Gil Seeley. Karlene was high on the triples but tied with Betsy on the singles. Betsy had four spares, Karlene two strikes and four spares, Gil had five spares.

Thanksgiving... We should thank God for our food. But remember that we should thank the Native Americans (Indians) also for giving food to the Pilgrims when they landed in America half starved... That is the original Thanksgiving... We haven't been thanking them very much lately... We are still trying to run them off their land... Why can't we give them something in return?

Happy birthday to our Secretary Peggy Wight from the members of the Newry Mother's Club.

This is one of the last evenings of... November and who described it bet... ter than Stanley Foss Bartlett. "The... eve is an etching. Of intricate tree... tops. A bird nest in branches, of... steeples and spires; a black and... white picture. Of shadows and... highlights. With starts that are quiet... and pane-sheltered fires. The eve is... an etching. Soon I hope I can walk the colder... roads for winter time has come to... the country, putting a chill into the... air. A little snow has already come... to hang low on each bow in all its... glory.

I recall the icicles on the ledges... just a short way from my home. Nature... weaves a jeweled spell all over... the open land when the year closes. Sometimes there is sadness when... the last page of the calendar appears. Perhaps that is because we are reluc... tant to let go of the known and face... again the unknown. It's a grand... finale of a climb across another hill... to the coming of a brand new year. It weaves a web of times I remem...

It will be fun to walk out again... among the newly revealed secrets... kept hidden all summer long; high... rise bird apartments, shiny red ber... ries decorating bushes, and seeking... brooks so recently in mossy green... beds but changing to ice clad... shoulders on their banks.

PRAYER TO ST. JUDE

To be said when problems arise or when one seems to be deprived of all visible help, or for cases almost despaired of.

Most holy apostle, St. Jude, faithful servant and friend of Jesus, the Church honors and invokes you universally, as the patron of hopeless cases, of things almost despaired of. Pray for me, I am so helpless and alone. Make use I implore you, of that particular privilege given to you, to bring visible and speedy help where help is almost despaired of. Come to my assistance in this great need that I may receive the consolation and help of heaven in all my necessities, tribulations, and sufferings, particularly (Here make your request) and that I may praise God with you and all the elect forever. I promise, O blessed St. Jude, to be ever mindful of this great favor, to always honor you as my special and powerful patron, and to gratefully encourage devotion to you. Amen. Carole

PRAYER TO THE HOLY SPIRIT

FROM CAROLE

Oh Holy spirit, thou who are all knowing, who brightens every path that I may reach my idea, thou who giveth me this divine gift of forgiving and forgetting wrongs done unto me and who in every instant of my life art with me, I'd like in this short dialogue to affirm my gratitude for all your blessings and reaffirm once again that I never want to part from thee though the illusion of material things abound.

My desire is to be with thee and all my loved ones in perpetual grace. Thank you for your mercy on me and mine. (Persons should pray 3 consecutive days without revealing petition. Within three days grace will be attained regardless of how difficult the petition may be).

Publish this prayer once grace attained. Grateful for grace attained.
